

Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law has made a big improvement in reducing the number of calls we receive from telemarketers. Before the law went into affect we received approximately 4 calls per day including Saturday and Sunday. To me this was an extreme invasion of my privacy. Dealing with persistant, demanding, insistant salespeople is not something I should be forced to endure in my own home. If I need to buy something I certainly will know where to buy it from or if not, how to find it. The old addage...don't call us, we'll call you is most definitely appropriate when it comes to telemarketers. Please leave the law in affect as it is!!
